CUT SHORT TERMS OF THE CLERKS

Final Revision Committee's Discovery.

FIVE OFFICIALS ARE AFFECTED

Richmond, Norfolk, Buena Vista, and Bristol.

MR. E. M. ROWELLE IN THE PRIMARY

Richmond's Circuit Court Clerk Must Send His Name in to the Chairman of the Democratic Committee Before Saturday—Sections of the New Constitution Bearing on Case.

The term of Mr. E. M. Rowelle, clerk of the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond, will expire on February 1, 1904. Instead of extending until January 1, 1907, as has been supposed. The same is true of the clerk of the Circuit Court of the city of Norfolk, whose term expires at the same time. It has also been ascertained that the terms of the clerks of the City or Corporation Courts of Bristol, Buena Vista and Radford, will expire February 1, 1904. Accordingly all these clerks must be elected on Tuesday, November 2d.

What is more important is the discovery that Clerk Rowelle's successor must be nominated in the viva voce primary to be held in this city in September, and his name must be sent in to the chairman of the City Democratic Committee before Saturday next. Unless an opponent appear, Mr. Rowelle will be declared the nominee for clerk of the Circuit Court by the City Democratic Committee without the formality of a primary.

Discovered Yesterday.
These discoveries were made yesterday by Delegate William H. Boaz and Senator George Wayne Anderson, both members of the Legislative Revision Committee. Mr. Boaz was also a member of the convention which drafted the Constitution. These gentlemen also as authority for their statement sections 87 and 122 of the Constitution, and sections 7, 8 and 14 of the schedule putting the Constitution into effect.

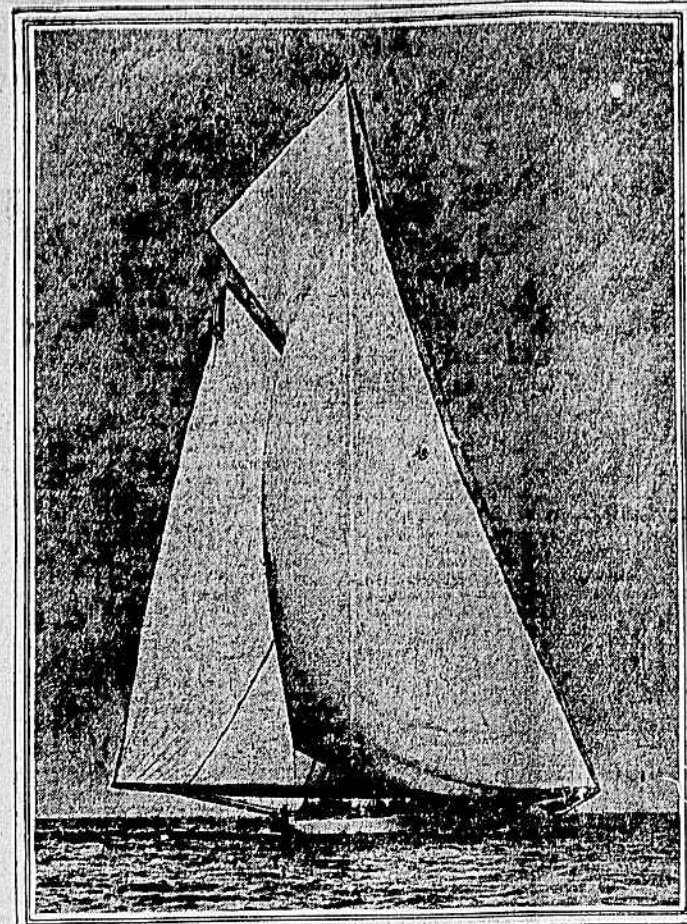

Section 87 provides that the judiciary department shall consist of a Supreme Court of Appeals, Circuit Courts, City Courts, and such other courts as are hereinafter authorized. Their jurisdiction is to be regulated by law; that is to say by legislative enactment.
Section 122 provides that all other elective officers (except Mayors and Councils of cities) provided for by this article, or hereafter authorized by law, shall be elected on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, and their terms of office shall begin on the first day of January succeeding, except that the terms of office of clerks of the city courts shall begin coincidentally with that of the judges of said courts; providing, that the General Assembly may change the time of election of all or any of the said officers, etc., the addendum relating to Mayors and Councils of cities.

To February 1, 1904.
Turning to the schedule, section 7 perpetuates the judicial system of County and Circuit Courts of the Commonwealth until the first day of February, 1904, on which date the judicial system of Circuit Courts shall go into operation. The terms of judges of City Courts in all the cities, except those of Bristol, Radford and Buena Vista, are extended until February 1, 1907. But the terms of judges of the three City Courts named are extended only to February 1, 1904, "unless said courts shall be sooner abolished." They have not been abolished, and on the contrary, provision has been made by the General Assembly for their

STATE FIREMAN'S ASSOCIATION GO TO BALTIMORE TO BE MARRIED

The Seventeenth Annual Convention in Session at Danville.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, VA., August 19.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Association convened in this city this afternoon at 2 o'clock. There are forty-two companies from all parts of the State, represented with 139 delegates.
In addition to the delegates and alternates, there are possibly 200 visitors. Several of the companies have brought bands with them, and the session promises to be full of interest. At the opening session an address of welcome was made by Mayor Harry Wooding in behalf of the city, and by Chief Reid, of the Danville fire department, on behalf of the local firemen.
The session to-night was devoted to business, and to-morrow at 3 o'clock the big parade, which is one of the principal features of the meeting, will take place. A number of prizes are offered, and the contests will be quite spirited.

THE RELIANCE

preservation. The requirement that the terms of clerks of the City Courts shall begin coincidentally with that of the judges of said courts, applies to the clerks of the cities of Bristol, Radford and Buena Vista. Under the inclusive category, "all other elective officials," the clerk of the Circuit Courts of Richmond and Norfolk are embraced, and these shall begin coincidentally with the terms of the judges of such courts.

The discovery has been made just in time, so far as the primary and the notice of candidacy are concerned. Clerk Rowelle must notify City Democratic Chairman Doherty of his candidacy before Saturday, but unless another candidate appear for the position, he will be proclaimed the nominee of the Democratic party of the city of Richmond for clerk of the Circuit Court for a six-year term.

YOUTHFUL COUPLE SEEK MATRIMONIAL BLISS IN MARYLAND CITY

Much to the surprise of their relatives and friends, Mr. Thomas P. Marsala and Miss Genevieve E. Stein, both of this city, went to Baltimore, over the York River line, Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of getting married.

Neither Mr. Marsala or Miss Stein are of age, and it was because of this they determined to go to Baltimore to have the ceremony performed, a friend of the prospective groom volunteered to look after the license.

Both parties are members of the Catholic Church, and it was found upon inquiry that the necessary letter had not been secured from the priest of the parish in Richmond. Under this rule the couple could not be married in the Catholic Church.

The license was secured, however, and it is probable that the couple were married by a minister of some other denomination.
Mr. Marsala is a son of the well known confectioner, and Miss Stein is a daughter of James W. Stein, of Carroll county. Both of the young people are well known here, and the main objection to their marriage by their relatives, was their youth.

DIVISION OF WARDS

Vote Was a Tie on Both Proposed Measures.

ONE MEMBER WAS ABSENT

Committee on Ordinances Brought to a Stand-Still at the Meeting Yesterday—Mr. Bottom's Vote Would Have Settled the Matter.

The Committee on Ordinances, Charter and Reform met in the City Hall yesterday afternoon for the special purpose of considering the question of redistricting the city. Those present at the meeting were: Messrs. Pollock, chairman; Adams, Beck, Cottrell, Crenshaw, Glenn, Hall, Minor, Pollard, Spence. Mr. Bottom was the only absentee, and he was reported absent from the city.

The committee had before them a large blue print copy of a map of the city showing the population by blocks.

The two plans for redistricting, which have been suggested, and which are now familiarly called the "Crenshaw-Minor" plan and the "Pollock-Beck" plan, were informally discussed at length.

The first named plan practically eliminates Jackson Ward and divides that territory by lines running north and south in such a way as to place a part in Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Lee wards.

The "Pollock-Beck" plan retains Jackson Ward as now laid out, with very slight alterations in the location of ward lines, and also makes only slight changes in the boundaries of all the other wards.

Mr. Minor spoke in favor of the plan which eliminated Jackson Ward. He said the conditions were such as to make this a matter of importance for the benefit of the city in every way.

Mr. Crenshaw strongly advocated this plan. Mr. Cottrell signified his unwillingness to support a plan which made any radical changes in the present lines in any of the wards. Messrs. Pollock and Beck forcibly advocated the plan suggested by them, and argued that it was the most practical, feasible and desirable.

Mr. Beck moved that the committee report the plan to retain Jackson Ward to the Council for adoption. This motion was lost on a tie vote, as follows: Ayes, Adams, Beck, Cottrell, Glenn, Pollock, Noel, Crenshaw, Hall, Minor, Pollard, Spence.
Mr. Minor offered the following resolution, which was adopted:
"Resolved, That the City Attorney be requested to furnish this committee with his opinion as to the effect of any change of the ward lines upon members of the Council and Police and Fire Commissioners, whose terms of office have not expired when such officers are thrown into a different ward from that from which they were elected, and when they are left in the same ward; also, what legislation, city or State, will be necessary to prevent forfeiture of office if such a change is made."

Mr. Crenshaw said he was in favor of a postponement of further consideration of the question of redistricting until the City Attorney had been heard from. Messrs. Adams, Beck, Cottrell, Glenn, Pollock, Noel, Crenshaw, Hall, Minor, Pollard, Spence.
Mr. Minor then made a motion to postpone, which was practically carried unanimously.
The matter will, therefore, not be brought up again until some time in September. The City Attorney is out of the city, and Mr. Bottom's standing in the matter is an unknown quantity. His vote yesterday would have settled the question one way or another yesterday.

LOANS FOR CHEMICAL

Many Banks Anxious to Supply the Money.

HAVE STRONG BACKING

Big Financial Concerns Believe in Merit of the Industry, and Are Ready to Lend Any Amount of Money Needed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, August 19.—So far as can be learned, the new Finance Committee of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company has no definite plan with respect to permanently supplying the company with additional working capital. It is understood that the loan negotiated recently will supply the company's needs into next season, and it is a fact that the loan was made with the privilege of renewal.

The necessity of this temporary loan is not regarded by well informed interests as at all indicative of an approaching period of depression in general business in the South, nor of a smaller volume of business for this particular company.

It is suggested that the Finance Committee has ample time to work out a satisfactory plan.

It would seem to be significant and worth noting that a syndicate organized by J. P. Morgan and Company to finance the loan comprises such strong financial institutions. It is certain that unless these institutions believed in the merit of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, they would not have made the loan on the rates that they did and with the privilege of renewal.

When the loan was being placed prominently out-of-town banks were offered a share of the loan by telegraph, with the opportunity of taking additional amounts upon investigation and approval. As a matter of fact, several of these out-of-town institutions did investigate the matter and telegraphed for substantial subscriptions.

ANOTHER CANAL TREATY POSSIBLE

Bill Ready to Authorize the Columbian Government to Negotiate New Convent'n

(By Associated Press.)
BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, Friday, August 14.—A bill is ready authorizing the government to make a new canal treaty with the United States upon fixed basis, and also providing for modifying the national Constitution.

WASHINGTON.—Unofficial, but what is considered authoritative information, has been received by Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires here, indicating an intention on the part of the Colombian Senate to resume consideration of the subject of a Panama Canal treaty in place of the one disapproved by that body on the 12th instant. This shows a decided change in the turn of affairs, and leads Dr. Herran to hope that a measure will be passed by Congress which will form the basis of a ratification of a treaty between Colombia and the United States for the construction of a Panama Canal.

TURNED TABLES ON HIS CAPTOR

Prisoner Locked Detective to Steam Pipes on Train and Escaped Queer Situation

(By Associated Press.)
CHEYENNE, WYO., August 19.—Albert Ecklund, alias George Johnson, who was captured at Rawlins and was being taken back to Chicago to answer to the charge of grand larceny, effected a remarkable escape from Detective William Marsden. Marsden left Rawlins last night with Ecklund, and to make sure of his man, shackled him to a seat in the smoking compartment of a chair car. While Marsden was sleeping beside his prisoner, Ecklund went through the detective's pockets secured the keys to the shackles, released himself and then shackled the officer to the steam pipes. Having relieved the officer of his weapons and other property, Ecklund left the train at Laramie.

Marsden was not awakened by the conductor until Cheyenne was reached, when he called for assistance.
As Marsden had absolutely nothing on his person to prove that he was not a prisoner, the trainmen would not release him. The conductor telegraphed to Chicago for instructions, and when the train reached Sydney, Marsden was finally released from his predicament. To-night he passed through Cheyenne en route to Laramie to try and effect the recapture of his prisoner.

BETTING ODDS ON RELIANCE

First Race Will Be Sailed To-Day.

SIR THOMAS IS SURE OF WINNING

Followers of Reliance Are Equally Confident.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS ARE NOT ALLURING

Weather Forecaster Promises a Breeze of from Three to Nine Knots, While One of Seven Knots Will Be Necessary for a Race. Time Allowance Increased.

(By Associated Press.)
The local Weather Bureau to-day issued the following special weather forecast for to-morrow's yacht race: "The weather over the course of day will be partly cloudy, with light to fresh west to north winds."

NEW YORK, August 19.—Over the ocean race course outside of Sandy Hook, Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenger, Shamrock III., will to-morrow try conclusions with the new defender of America's cup, the Reliance. It is said that one of the largest crowds which ever witnessed an international cup race will go out to see the initial contest for the blue ribbon of the sea.

Again this year, as in the two preceding series, the government will police the course with revenue cutters, and the most stringent rules have been laid down to prevent interference by the excursion fleet with the big single stickers.

Like greyhounds in leash, the big clean-lined racers are moored to-night inside Sandy Hook, ready for the fray to-morrow. Both yachts were given their final trial spins to-day. Despite the big time allowance which the defender must concede to the challenger, the friends of the Reliance are extremely confident that Sir Thomas is again doomed to defeat, and the confidence in the American boat is reflected in the betting, where the odds are two to one on the Reliance. The friends of the British boat, on the other hand, profess the greatest faith in the ability of Lipton's latest creation to "lift the cup."

In neither of his previous attempts to carry off the "mug," did Sir Thomas sail on a challenger. To-night he is in doubt whether to sail in the challenger to-morrow. His friends on the Erin urged him not to do so for fear of an accident, and the prediction for to-morrow is not alluring, the forecaster promising a breeze from three to nine knots. A seven knot breeze will be necessary to carry the boats over the course in the allotted time.

The wind at Sandy Hook at midnight was south-south-east, eight miles an hour; weather cloudy. A moderate sea was running.

It was announced at the New York Yacht Club late to-night that C. D. Mower, the official measurer, had measured Sir Thomas Lipton's cup challenger, Shamrock III., off Sandy Hook to-day, and that as a consequence the challenger will be in receipt of an additional allowance of twelve seconds in the races, making a total time allowance of one minute and fifty-seven seconds, against the previous estimate of one minute forty-five seconds.

The new measurement revealed the fact that a mistake had been made in measuring the length of the ship. When Mr. Mower ran his measure over the mast to-day he found that the throat hiliard block was three feet lower down than his first measurement of yesterday showed. This made the length of the ship greater by three feet, reducing the size of the mainsail and thus decreasing the sail area. The new measurement brings the racing length of the Shamrock III. down to 144.4 instead of 147.7, equal to a time allowance of twelve seconds.

For the first time the challenger and defender sailed in company off Sandy Hook when both boats were out for their final spin. Except when passing, going in opposite directions, the two yachts were never nearer than three miles to each other, so that there was no opportunity to compare them, although some observers thought that Shamrock III. heeled a little more and seemed to carry a larger stern wave.

Shamrock III. proceeded as far as the lighthouse, hove-to and awaited the arrival of the Oceanic, bound in, and then followed by the Earl and Countess of Shaftesbury, the latter of whom was sponsor for Shamrock III. at her launching, were on board the Oceanic, and as the big liner passed, the crew of the Shamrock cheered the Countess. Both of the yachts returned to their moorings at Sandy Hook after having been absent an hour and a quarter. Their crews overhauled their sails and got everything in readiness for the race.

During the afternoon and evening the steam yachts gathered in the Horseshoe to follow the racers when they leave for the starting line to-morrow, and late to-night there was a good sized fleet at anchor there. Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht Erin came up the harbor in the afternoon to receive the Earl and Countess of Shaftesbury and other of Sir Thomas Lipton's guests from the Oceanic, and lay there during the night.
C. Oliver Lipton, the managing member of the Reliance syndicate, and his advisers, passed the night on board the Reliance, under Sunbeam, at anchor near the Reliance.

It was asked for a prophecy of the re-
